10:00am – 10:50am ⇨ Break-out Sessions
(choose one to attend for each hour)

Mary Anne Layden, PhD

The Sexual Exploitation Industry: A Seamless and Toxic Continuum

OVERVIEW: This presentation will explain how pornography commercializes and pathologizes sexuality while promoting beliefs that are unrelentingly false and toxic. The sexual exploitation industry teaches these beliefs in a potent way, and as with any form of education, the impact can be massive and far reaching. The consequences of this education are on a seamless continuum from prostitute Halloween costumes for children to the criminal act of rape. While sex was intended to be a sacred and central act in human cultures, we are currently paying the price for the way the sexual exploitation industry degrades its healthy purposes.

Dan Gray, LCSW, Todd Olson, LCSW & Dorothy Maryon, LPC

When Trust is Betrayed: How to Create Safety in a Relationship when Trust has been Lost

OVERVIEW: The spouse, whose trust has been shattered by a partner's pornography use, experiences pain and feelings of betrayal. This session will address how the offending spouse can create safety again in the relationship. It will also address how others, such as friends and clergy can assist in this process.

Ken Knapton

Teens and Technology: Parenting in a Digital World

OVERVIEW: We live in a digital world, and many children are more comfortable using technology than their parents are. With so many new outlets to tempt today's children and teens, parents need to understand the dangers and what to do about them. This session will help you to learn how children are using technology, and what dangers exist because of the technologies that have become part of our children's lives. We will discuss such issues as cyber bullying, Internet predators and social networking. We will provide some pragmatic steps to help protect your family in this digital world.

Janalyn Holt & Jan Garbett

Sound Knowledge Engages Positive Power

OVERVIEW: No matter what circumstances we encounter in life, positive or negative, the more accurate knowledge we learn about a situation can empower us with perspective and courage and a vision to move forward with confidence and purpose. This session is presented by Women for Decency.

The 9th Annual Conference on Protecting Children and Families from Pornography and Other Harmful Material

This conference has become recognized nationally for its efforts to protect children and families from pornography and other harmful material. Each year, UCAP unites various agencies and organizations who seek to establish and maintain standards of decency in our communities and promote safety for children and families. The focus of the vast array of presentations in this conference will address the issues of pornography and other harmful material that threatens the foundation of stable life for individuals, families, and communities. The purpose of this conference is to educate the citizens about problems related to obscenity, provide resources and help, and teach people what they can do to promote community standards that will safeguard children and families.

Speaker Biographies

Patrick A. Trueman. With a lifetime of legal services to the community, Patrick Trueman's expertise has benefited citizens across the nation. Trueman served as the Chief of the Child Exploitation and Obscenity Section (CEOS), Criminal Division, in the United States Department of Justice. CEOS led federal prosecutions of child sexual exploitation and abuse, child pornography, and obscenity crimes. Trueman also worked with the nation's 93 United States Attorneys to coordinate federal prosecutions of the major producers and distributors of child pornography and adult obscenity. His team put several of the largest pornography producers behind bars and crippled their financial enterprises with large penalties. Since leaving the Department of Justice, he has served as a legal consultant to many national and local non-profit organizations such as Alliance Defense Fund, Family Research Council, Guardian of Angles Foundation, and the Renewal Forum. Pat has also worked with many municipalities and community leaders providing advice on zoning and licensing ordinances to regulate sexually oriented businesses, and has trained police, prosecutors, and judges on sexual trafficking. Trueman lives just outside Washington, D.C., is married to Laura Clay Trueman, and has three children.

Phil Burress, President of Citizen's for Community Values. Phil Burress' zeal for the mission of Citizen's for Community Values (CVV) stemmed from his personal experiences and gratitude. Burress knew firsthand what devastating affect pornography could have on an individual and his family, and he was determined to do whatever he could to prevent others from experiencing such devastation. In addition, Burress' business background seemed to uniquely qualify him for pro-family activism. From a willing volunteer, he progressed to a member of the Board of Directors, and in 1991 became president of CCV. Today, Burress is recognized nationally as one of the most effective leaders in the pro-family movement. He shares his expertise with communities across the nation and has appeared on numerous talk shows, including World News Tonight, Larry King Live, MSNBC, Good Morning America, CNBC, and Fox News.

Mary Anne Layden, PhD. Dr. Layden is a psychotherapist and Director of Education at the Center for Cognitive Therapy at the University of Pennsylvania. She is the Director of the Sexual Trauma and Psychopathology Program and the Director of the Social Action Committee for Women's Psychological Health. She specializes in the treatment of victims and perpetrators of sexual violence, sexual addicts and sex industry members. She has testified before the U. S. Congress on five occasions focused on issues of sexual violence, the sexual exploitation industry and the media. She has lectured extensively both in the US and abroad on cognitive therapy, childhood sexual trauma, sexual addiction, sexual exploitation industry and imagery techniques.

Dan Gray, LCSW, CSAT, is a licensed clinical social worker specializing in addictions counseling. He has a master's degree in social work and is a CSAT (Certified Sexual Addiction Therapist). He is also certified as an addictions counselor with the National Association of Forensic Counselors. He maintains a busy private practice, lecturing regularly and providing training and consultation to numerous civic, religious, and professional organizations throughout the country. In addition, he is the clinical director of the LifeSTAR Network program, which provides help for individuals and couples from around the country who are dealing with problems related to sexual addictions and compulsive behaviors. He co-authored the books Discussing Pornography Problems with a Spouse and Confronting Pornography. Dan is married and the father of four. He enjoys fly fishing, hiking, biking and basically, anything outdoors.

Todd Olson, LCSW, CSAT, is a licensed clinical social worker specializing in the treatment of sexual addiction, sexual anorexia, codependency, and trauma. He has a master's degree in social work and is a CSAT (Certified Sexual Addiction Therapist). His private practice includes individuals, couples, and group therapy and he is frequently called to lecture nationwide on sexual addiction and recovery issues. He is the program director and cofounder of LifeSTAR Network, which provides help for individuals and couples who are dealing with problems related to sexual addictions and compulsive behaviors. He is married and the father of five children. His favorite pastimes include supporting his kids in their activities and doing anything outdoors, especially training and riding his horses.

Ken Knapton is a Cyber Safety expert and author of "Cyber Safety: Maintaining Morality in a Digital World". He has over 20 years of experience in the high tech industry and has held various roles in both "software development" and "information technology" organizations. He holds 3 patents for his work on enterprise security and anti-virus technology, and was named as the 2006 Chief Technology Officer of the year by the Utah Technology Council. He has consulted with the CIA, FBI, Secret Service and Department of Homeland Security, and their equivalent organizations in other countries, regarding forensic software and password recovery solutions, and was Chief Technology Officer for ContentWatch, the makers of NetNanny Internet filtering software. He holds a Bachelors of Science in Computer Science and Information Systems from Utah Valley University, and a Masters of Business Administration from Brigham Young University. He currently works as an IT Strategist for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, and lives in Pleasant Grove, Utah, with his wife and four children.

Geoff Steurer, MS, LMFT, is a licensed marriage and family therapist in private practice in St. George, Utah. He is the director of LifeSTAR of St. George, Utah, a 3-phase treatment program for couples and individuals affected by pornography and sexual addiction. Geoff specializes in working with couples and presents regularly on helping couples through all the stages of sexual addiction recovery. He recently recorded a 6-part audio series entitled "Strengthening Recovery Through Strengthening Marriage" with Dr. Kevin Skinner available at www.LifeSTARstgeorge.com. He has been married for 13 years to Jody Young Steurer and they are the parents of four children.

Rebecca Jorgensen, PhD., is the Director of Development and Operations of the Training and Research Institute for Emotionally Focused Therapy at Alliant International University (TRI EFT Alliant). Her interest has always been in relationships and families. She began initially working with children and soon realized that working with parents created more change, safety and help for children. She is certified as an Emotionally Focused Therapy (EFT) Therapist and is one of only a handful of endorsed trainers in the U.S. on Dr. Sue Johnson's, founder of EFT, team. She maintains a clinical practice to stay fresh as she works to advance Emotionally Focused Therapy. She is devoted to strengthening families through helping couples develop safe and secure marital bonds and helping other therapists learn effective couple's therapy.

Janalyn Harris Holt, President of Women for Decency. Janalyn Holt considers herself an "ordinary" mom though anyone familiar with motherhood knows that there is no "ordinary" in mothering. She is a graduate of the University of Utah, married to Bill Holt, and the mother of 4 children. Nearly fifteen years ago Janalyn became concerned about pornography and its devastating effect on families, and in particular women. She began by simply making phone calls, which lead to meetings with key "warriors" leading the battle against pornography, and then approximately one year later, with the help of many selfless, dedicated people, Janalyn founded Women for Decency -- a non-profit organization created to encourage the positive use of media and technology, raise standards of decency for the common good and support women who endure the pain of a loved one's use of pornography.

Jan VanDenBerghe Garbett, Chairman of Education for Women for Decency. Jan Garbett received a B.A. in English at BYU. As board member for Women for Decency, she brings years of hands on "grassroots" experience working in the public school system developing WRAP, White Ribbons Against Pornography, programs. Jan has also been involved on an international scale with the promotion of women's organizations and education. As a principal board member of Families United Toward Universal Respect (F.U.T.U.R.E.) she has conducted training in Iraq and Salt Lake City to Iraqi women to promote self-reliance and charitable service. Jan is a principal founder of Founda-tion Escalera which builds middle schools in Chaipas, Mexico, and provides scholarships to indigenous Mexican youth. She is married to Bryson Garbett and they have 8 children.

Jackie Campbell, LCSW, is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker. She has a private practice and is a group facilitator for the LifeSTAR Network in Salt Lake City. Jackie was instrumental in developing the Youthstar treatment program for adolescents and their parents. This program was designed to assist adolescents who struggle with pornography and other sexual compulsive behaviors. Jackie was an adolescent student counselor for the Granite School District for many years.

Dorothy Maryon, LPC, is a licensed professional counselor who specializes in partners' issues associated with sexual addiction in marriage. She has worked as a counselor in the LifeSTAR program for ten years, focusing on addiction and sexual compulsivity. She is in private practice and has presented at several conferences on addiction, codependency, creating safety for partners, and grief and trauma issues. She has written articles and training materials on sexual addiction and recovery. Dorothy is married and the mother of three children.

Kimball DeLaMare LCSW, is a licensed clinical social worker with over twenty five years working with troubled adolescents, young adults, and their families. Kimball has helped develop and oversee several treatment programs including group homes, residential treatment centers and community based services. His recent work as a cofounder of a nationally recognized treatment center coupled with his role as the founding Board President of the National Association of Therapeutic Schools and Programs (NATSAP) has allowed him to become well versed in a variety of treatment approaches, administrative strategies and regulatory processes. Kimball is a member of the Joint Commission Youth Advisory Council which helps direct national standards for treatment providers. In conjunction with LifeSTAR of Salt Lake, Kimball recently helped develop focused treatment interventions for youth struggling with pornography addictions.
